This image shows a page from a medieval Hebrew manuscript. The top half contains musical notation using square neomata (neumes on square neomata). Below the notation, there is a line of vocalization in Hebrew script, likely representing the melody or a specific reading. The bottom half of the page features a large, decorative initial word 'ב' (Beit) in red ink, which is a common feature in Hebrew manuscripts. The entire page is filled with dense, handwritten text in black ink.
